In the debate the other day scenaror Cameron of Pennsylvania made the following estatement:

Mr. Cameron. Mr. President, it is always unpleasant to make charges against men is high official station; I think they are generally more standered than they ought to be; but to my mind it is evident that our revenue system is badly managed, and it does not yield what it ought to the public Treasury. Last year, I believe, whicky produced a revenue of some twenty-nine million dollars, and this year we shall not get fifteen millions. We have bed no report of it since the first of July last, but the revenue from whisky is decreasing constantly. It is known by every futualligent business man that the revenue is defrauded by the revenue officers. A set of men are employed, intentionally or unintentionally, by the Government who are dishonest and unfit for their places, as well as by their ignorance as by their dishonesty. I can get a company tomorrow who will agree to give the Government $75,000,000 a year for the whinky tax, if the government will farm it out to a company. We make about one hundred million gallous a year, and at the present tax we ought to receive from its $200,000,000.

te considerably exercised concerning the bill offered by Senator Connell, some days ago, pro viding for the testing of all refined oils, for sale or storage within the corporate limits of Philadelphia. Under its provisions, ten cents a bar rel is to be exacted as a fee for inspecting the oil and ascertaining the fire test. This legislation is wholly unnocessary, as the United States revenue laws provide for this very test. Five cents per herret is now paid by refiners on all oil gauged in Publishin, and Senator Connell proposes to addien cents more tax per barrel for testing The number of barrels exported from Philadelphia last year was one million two hundred thousand, and the tix of ten cents would reach the enormous sum of $120,000—a nice plam for the inspector and his assistants.

The oil dealers assert that this bill will have nost ruinous effect upon the off business; should t be allowed to become a law. It will merely impose a useless tax, and to that extent tend to drive the business from the State, and to other ports of shipment where a more liberal policy

At a meeting of the oil dealers of Philadelphia held on Saturday, a committee, consisting, of Messes. Warden and Ellis, was appointed to visit Harrisburg and endeavor to defeat the bill. This setion was telegraphed to Pittsburgh, and on the same day a special meeting of the Petroleum Association of that city was held, when Mesers, H. M. Long, T. W. Davis, O. B. Jones, B. W. Morgan, John A. Warden, Chas. Lockhart, Wm. P. ogan and Wm. A. Foreyth were appointed to visit Harrisburg, and act in conjunction with the Philadelphia committee.

The Pittsburgh Gazette justly characterizes the bill as a direct blow at one of the most import ant interests of our State, and should it pass the Legislature, the petroleum trade of Putsburgh will be injured materially, while Philadelphia vill suffer immeasurably. The reflaces throughand make New York the point for storage of their products preparatory to expediation, as the en-ormous extra tax of ten cents per barrel would eriously cut into their profits, and being unable regulate the prices in Europe, no compensate ing return could be expected.

The following is a section of the National law which provides for the very object in view:

"No person shall mix for sale napthy and idu-minating oits, or shall knowingly sell or iden-tor sale, or offer for sale such mixture, or shall ell or ofter for sale oil made from petroleum tor sell or offer for sale oil made from perfolein tor liminimating purposes, inflammable at let's to inparture or life test than one hundred and ten degrees Fabrecheit, and any person so doing shall be held to be guilty of a unisd meanor, and on consiction thereof by induction to presentment in any Court of the United States having competent periodiction, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dolling, nor more than five hundred dolling, and by lapin somment for a term of not less than six months nor more than three years."

If dishought parties practice deception in sell-

Il dishonest parties practice deception in selling oil below the established standard test, it is clearly the duty of the United States government to enforce the above penalty. It is not just that the mass of honest refluers should be subjected to such heavy taxation as contemplated in this bill, in order to ensure protection to the public against a few dishonest dealers, who should be dealt with according to the national law already made and provided. We hope that all the members will discover the imposition contem-plated by the proposed law, and will vote with wisdom and judgment, when it comes up for ac-

Eddors Morning Herald .
Quite an excitement occurred in this young lown lost Monday morning, on account of the de of bothes of three men being tound anspended in front of a house.

If seems that a rough character by the name of Keich, to merly from O.1 Creek, was keeping a sup in and bouding house in this place, when two other men, called "Shorty" and Jick Heys, from Chevenne City, came over and put up at Kelth's house. "Shorty" and Hays hid committed some ontrageous offence at Cheyenuc, and came here to escape detection. But they were followed by the Vigilance Committee, abou sixty in number, who traced the fugitives to Keith's. The gang were all masked. They broke open the door of Kelth's house, and took him, as well as "Shorty" and Hays, to the door of the next house, as that was the most conven ient spot for the performance, and hung all three by the neck, torbidding the man of the house to ome out. This was done about four o'clock on Monday morning. The bodies were cut down before they were cold. The full names of the victims I have not learned, but they were known as above. Keith was hing as a penalty for at-tempting to conceal "Shorty" and Hays.

The of these bonds during the past few months have been very large; ten million dollars having been already disposed of to parties throughout the country. So active was the increasing demand or these securities that it was probable that five millions more would be sold in the first week of February, if the price had been allowed to remain at 93. It has been frequently asserted in the advertisements of the company, and in our ditorial columns, that the price would probably be advanced, and those who took the hint, and cought at 99, may now see the wisdom of so doing. The Company is now in high credit, and has a handeome surplus of cash on hand for the future prosecution of the work of construction. We are gratified at these evidences of complete

HARRISBURG, Feb. 3, 1868 The parties interested were exceedingly jubilant last week over the passage of the Connelsville Railroad bill, and it is no wonder they felt like rejoicing that the long struggle with the great monopoly was over at last. The fight has een long and bitter, and the victory is the first substantial one ever gained over the Central damaging effect against Commissioner Rollins road. Though the bill passed through without We have not space for its reproduction here, but any apparent opposition, it must not be supposed that the managers of that Company are entirely in the Tribune correspondence of the day follow so far useless, against the free railroad law, is of the statement are thus exposed: clearly proving. The decisions of the Supreme Court in the Connelsyttle case, delivered a few days since by Judge Sharswood, clearly force shadowed the action of the Legislature, and put a sudden and effectual stop to further opposition to the measure in that body, and they are now making what show they can in fighting the more important bill.

When the House adjourned on Friday the sections of the free railroad bill were being acted upon, and the first vote proved that the friends of the measure had a decided majority. Now withstanding this however, the members from Pinladelphia assisted by a number of others from the central and castern portions of the State fought the measure at every available point. When they found that it was not among the possibilities to defeat it openly on that day they endeavored to choke off the majority by motions to adjourn, by calling the ayes and mays and all the other tricks resorted to under parliamentary rules to gain them, but it was all in vain. Thoy were treet and turned back in every conser, and as the bill will again come up in regular order to higher it is thought it will be passed without further difficulty. The final solution of this long-taked of question will then remain with the Senate, and though grave least of its detect there are entertained, it does not seem possible that the Republic ms in that body will dare to act in open violation of the well known wishes of the party in the State. In view of the approaching elections they cannot very well afford to be so toolich, and innowing this as well as they do, we will hope for the best. When the House adjourned on Friday the sec-

The Gas Question.

Editors Morning Herald . Sins: I was surprised to read in your paper of Saturday last, that the Titusville Gas Company pnenly confesses its inability to make good gu torts into its works for the manufacture of gas from coal. If the Company will pass the gas, which it makes by Rand's patent, through a retort heated to reduces, it (the gas, not the Company) like oyster reason will doubtless be more attract be chemical, and not simply mechanical, as by ice to ladies and gentlemen than many other re Raud's process, and this gas will not condense in sorts, for no bur is connected with the establish cold weather. Runter's Point Long Island, is in the country. Every house has a bar, and there the cost of making it is thirty-eight cents per are three dance-houses besides. The buildings thousand cubic feet, estimating the cost of ben-the Titusville Company costs consumers ten times more than would refined oil, while it manifeets a liberal disposition on the part of the good mople of your town to sustain the enterprise ould seem to need some explanation, in view of what is done at Hunter's Point.

But why go back to coal? That would not be characteristic of Titosville. Why not make was rom petroleum? Without assuming to know very much about it, I will venture the assertion hat one barrel of oit will make ten (10,000) thou sand cubic feet of illuminating gas, superior to that of east being more than can be made from a ton of Breckenridge coal, and nearly twice as ninch as could be made from any of the bitumin ous coals used in the oil regions for fuel. A coal eas-works is an abominable nuisance in any neighborhood, spreading foul and unwholesome gases over an area of two square miles, while the gas from petroleum is so pure as to regulre but little if any, chemical treatment. What will be thought of the man who goes from the oil regions to New York, to buy coat gas retorts, when the great works of that city are at the present time contemt plating the change from coal to petroleum, when in fact, one company is actually making and mix ng petroleum gas with its coal gas, in improve the the quality of the latter? Believing s I do, that gas may be made from petroleum in any of the towns in the oil region, of a better quality, and theaper, at the present price of per-trolense, than it has ever been made from cost, troloum, than it has ever been made from cost, mywhere in the United States, (Pittsburgh being the cheapest point, $150, per in, ft.) it was with regret that I sead the article which Induced my to make these remarks. I hope, therefore, that your people will test these statements of mine before accepting cool gas. It is not a subject that we need group about; it is well understood by chemists, and practical gas makers, and would be easily demonstrated by any one of ordinary intelligence who will undertake the experiment. LECTURE AT PLEASANTVILLE. - The Rev. I. J. Marks, is to lecture in the Presbyterian Church at Piensantville, this evening. Subject, Travels in the Holy Land." This is a continu ion of a very interesting discourse delivered upon thesome subject in Pleasantville several weeks ugo. The admission fee is fixed at twenty-five cents, and it is expected that a large audience will be gathered.

Yours respectfully FRANKLIN, Feb. 3, 1863.

On Filday last, the New York papers published a Washington dispatch purporting to be a statement prepared by the Secretary of the Treasury, from the official records of his department, in relation to Internal Revenue. It was an elaborate statistical document, specifically drawn, and being issued detensibly under the direction of Son retary McCullough, was calculated to have a very some of its most significant points are embraced laid out; they are only " scotched," as their fight, ing, wherein both the origin as well as the object ing, wherein both the origin as well as the object of the statement are thus exposed:

The Associated Press agency of this city was used last evening for the purpose of circulating on infamous stander upon the Commissioner of internal Revance, Mr. Rollins, and of diffusing as false and mallelous a paper as has appeared in print to a long time. The document is said to have been prepared by the Secretary of the Treasury from official records in his office, and represented that during the past facel year, as compared with the one before, the Internal Revenue receipts had decreased nearly $30,000,000; that out of the changes of collectors and assessors made within the year, 119 were brought about on the recommendation of Mr. Rollins, and only 30 by Mr. Johnson; that in the districts where Mr. Bollins' appointees were placed, the average losses were nearly $49,000 per district, and that in those districts where Mr. Johnson's reverse times as much as Mr. Johnson's. From the beginning to the end there is not one word of truth in the statement. The Secretary of the Treasury neither prepared, nor caused to be prepared, the document in question, and knows nothing whatever about it. Mr. Rollins did not be used to a dozen changes in the Department and the removals were made, in most cases, against his express wheles. The paper was drawn up at the instigation of the President, by a clerk in the Treasury Department, and was intended as a means of scape from the odium of having placed its concertion and publication, and that the whole transaction is of a piece with the Grant assault—an untrue, cowardly attack upon a foliation difficer.

The concluding paragraph of the stancerous statement above referred to reads as follows:

The number of districts in which removals were made on the recommendation of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is 110. The number of districts in which no removals of Collectors or Assessors were made is 101. The variage falling off per district in the 110 districts lo which the President made removals and appointments on the recommendation of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is $160,942.81. The average falling off in the 20 districts on which the President condercements without concentring the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is $45,470.37. This region was then producing about 9,000 barrels of oil per day, upon which the tax in round numbers may be stated at $1,161,000 of the tax, a circumstance that would seem of sufficient importance to be taken into the cell mates of deficiencies under the Rollins adminis completed a portrait of the little daughter of Mr. G. C. McEowen, which exhibits the most striking fidelity to the original. The girl is about two and a half years old, and is presented nearly life size upon the canvas. The figure is accurately drawn, and the colors are rich and ous in the sunlight, and the dark, speaking eyes look out from a face of exquisite red and white in a vision of happy innocence. The composition is admirably managed and in the landscape which forms the background the artist has displayed the same striking abilities. This portrait can be seen for a few days at Mr. Tuttle's studio, ad joining Mather's gallery, next door west of the American Hotel. Portraits of Mr. R. B.
